

Teacher of the Year Awards

2024-2025 Call for Nominations

The Faculty Senate Teaching Enhancement Committee and the Center for Teaching and Learning invite nominations to recognize outstanding educators in the University. All UNM instructors, students, and staff are encouraged to nominate lecturers, instructors, and professors for special award recognition. We encourage nominations from departments in all UNM colleges and branches. For more information on nominations, the application process, and deadlines, please visit the CTL website.

This year's awards will recognize the ways instructors have accomplished one or more of the following:

- Increased the inclusive nature of their classroom by making their courses more culturally responsive, welcoming, or trauma-informed,
- Skillfully and creatively redesigned their courses to increase student success and student belonging,
- Broadened access to learning by adopting more affordable or accessible teaching materials, and/or
- Engaged in their own professional development in order to achieve any of these aims.

To nominate an educator for any of the awards, please visit our awards page to submit their name. We will then contact all nominees with information about the application process. If you have questions, please write to us at teachingsupportctl@unm.edu

We encourage nominees and applicants from all colleges, branches, and departments. The Center for Teaching and Learning offers guidance for teaching philosophies, teaching observations, and support letters. You can also set up a consultation with the Teaching Support team (teachingsupportctl@unm.edu) to receive feedback and guidance on your materials.
